At Dolfie we want to create a new Vision...not only focus on craftsmanship and quality but also make products with an entire fair and sustainable lifecycle. That is what we want to achieve.

Dolfie uses several types of recycled and transformed materials.

Reduce Reuse Recycle

SAVE THE OCEAN PROJECT

Plastic is destroying our planet.

Over 100 billion garments are produced every year and over 60% are made from synthetic materials made out of plastics that will end up in landfills or the ocean and will take hundreds of years to decompose.

As much as 35% of microplastics found in the ocean come from synthetic clothing.

The Dolfie STO project was born out of our desire to help with the preservation of the environment. This is one of our most ambitious projects. Dolfie sneakers made out of plastic collected from the Mediterranean Sea and transformed into high-quality recycled yarn (SEAQUAL Certification Number 19WJGISB01). About 7 bottles of plastic goes into each pair of DOLFIE STO. This way we can give plastic a second life and clean our oceans!

We love this planet and want to maintain it as good as we can.

Dolfie is for conscious people who value quality sustainable products. But most importantly for people who care about our PLANET.

ECOLOGICAL LEATHER

We care about this planet and its existing species.
Yet we make leather shoes. What a contradiction!

Cows don't die to become a pair of shoes. This by no means alleviates our concern over animal cruelty, but we make sure that all leather used in our collections is derived from the food industry, with legal certification, never intended for fashion in any way. We have promised ourselves and to YOU our full commitment in ensuring that our products do not contribute to the abuse or animal exploitation.

All Dolfie ecological leathers are carefully selected and sourced locally from some of the best tanneries in Southern Europe. Our Eco-leathers are natural premium leather containing no chemicals made with organic substances present in trees and plants, in order to reduce the environmental impact and protect you and our planet.

Ultimately then, we believe that vegetable tanned leather is as of today by far a better sustainable option. It has also the ability to be recycled and re-used for a much longer period of time.

It's naïve to make empty promises or make you believe that we will change this world...although, we will never give up trying.
